Course Description

Introduction to the field of finance, including principles, techniques and uses of finance as a business function. Study of financial analysis, planning and decision-making. Focuses on the firm's balance of financial risk and return.

Course Objective

To develop a sound knowledge of the essentials of corporate financial management. Upon completion of the course, you should have acquired an understanding of cash flow analysis and the ability of using financial calculator.

Required Text

Ross, Westerfield and Jordan, Essentials of Corporate Finance. 9th Ed. Boston: McGraw-Hill Irwin, 2017. (ISBN10: 1259277216)

Required Calculator: Texas Instruments BA II Plus ¹

¹ This is a required item. You can buy it at local office suppliers like Staple or from Amazon.com for under $30. Please get it before school begins.

Class Administration and Assignments

1. Attendance is required. Please contact the instructor if a conflict should prevent you from attending the class.
2. The class schedule gives the reading assignments. Students must read the chapters before they are covered in class. For the first class, please read the chapters as indicated in the syllabus. Please start learning how to use the financial calculator ASAP!
3. You don't need to turn in your homework. But they should be done in the week as indicated in the schedule. We will review some of the problems at the end of next class, if time permits.
4. In addition to the homework problems, students are encouraged to read the "Critical Thinking and Concepts Review" sections at the end of each chapter.
5. Selected questions and problems from each chapter are assigned as exercises. Those are good indications as to what will be tested in the exams.
6. The publisher has provided updated self-study software for you to download on their web page. With this program, you can test your knowledge by using self-grading questions written specifically for this textbook.
7. If the student's disabilities fall within ADA, please inform the Professor at the beginning of the course of any special needs or equipment necessary to accomplish the requirements for this course, and present the completed Student Academic Accommodation Request (SAAR) form. Any student seeking accommodations for handicaps must first obtain a written and completed evaluation SAARs form from the University's Program for Academic Support and Services for each course. This form is to be presented at the beginning of the course to the professor. Contact PASS office at pass@ndnu.edu or (650) 508-3778 (<http://www.ndnu.edu/pass>).

Exams

Both midterm and final will be take-home.

Students should consult the current university bulletin for university policies regarding incomplete and withdrawals. In addition, students should refer to the bulletin for university policies regarding academic integrity.
