Dear NDNU Students:

Online/Remote Classes Extended through Summer 2020 Semester

Currently, California is still under a shelter-in-place order to prevent the spread of coronavirus. It is not clear when it will be safe again to have face-to-face classroom instruction. As a result, NDNU has decided to extend online/remote classes through the end of the summer 2020 semester. We know this is difficult for our students, faculty, and staff, but this decision is made with the health and welfare of both our campus community and the broader community in mind. Many thanks for your patience and hard work in this challenging time.

No Classes on Good Friday, April 10

The university is closed this Friday, April 10, in observance of the Good Friday holiday. For live-streamed Holy Week liturgies, see this website. For prayer requests, please visit the Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur Prayer Wall.

Pass/Not Pass Options and Extended Withdrawal Dates

NDNU is working on revising policies for spring semester 2020 related to options for Pass/Not Pass grading as well as extended deadlines for withdrawal from classes. More information will be available soon.

How to Return Library Materials

Gellert Library in-person service is closed for the remainder of spring semester. Library materials should be returned to the book-return bin outside the library entrance by May 8, 2020. If you cannot return to campus, please ship books by mail in a padded envelope or box to:
