In the heart of Silicon Valley

What

Established in 1851 by the Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur, NDNU is a fully accredited, co-educational university and the third oldest institution of higher learning in California. We offer a rich variety of undergraduate, graduate, doctoral and teacher credential programs.

- Global Business Accreditation from the Accreditation Council for Business Schools and Programs
- Ranked among the Top 50 best regional universities in the West by U.S. News and World Report
- Recognized as having one of the Top 10 Silicon Valley Business Schools
- Named one of the Top 10 Hispanic Serving Institutions in the country

Why

Working with our academic and administrative professionals to create a custom-designed program for your company, you will be able to:

- Reduce professional development and tuition re-imbursement costs
- Improve employee retention
- Increase workplace diversity
- Strengthen your brand awareness in the local community
- Provide your employees with ways to engage and give back

Where

Our historic, 50-acre campus is located in Belmont, Calif., on the San Francisco peninsula just north of Silicon Valley amidst the sprawling foothills of the Pacific Ocean. Conveniently situated within one mile of bus, train and major freeway transportation and 30 minutes from three international airports, NDNU is the perfect setting for corporate retreats, business seminars, team-building exercises and training sessions.
